Analysis of Feedback

Most of the departments provide feedback proforma to students annually. Besides, Parents-Teachers Association takes feedback of parents during its meeting. In the session 2016-17 this process continued. Most of the students and parents expressed satisfaction with the teaching atmosphere and facilities provided by the college. Though some concerns were expressed about teachers' absence during orientation/refresher courses, syllabus prescribed by the university etc. Besides, students want reformed evaluation system. But overall students expressed satisfaction for the facilities and teaching of the institution.

Best Practices

Annexure- 3 (i)

Goal- N.C.C. aims to enable the efficient achievements of a nationally consistent and minimum necessary building design. It aims at developing character, comradeship, discipline, a secular outlook and selfless service amongst young students.

The Context- Keeping N.C.C.'s goals in view the institute started N.C.C. unit from the session 2016-17.

The Practice- N.C.C. unit of the college provides three years of rigorous training. Fifty seats have been allotted for every year. It means 150 students are trained simultaneously. Apart from the girls of the institution, some other girls from the institutions where N.C.C. is not offered get training here. The selection of N.C.C. cadets is fair that is done through an all round physical and mental test. Selected students started having training from August 2016. The training included military training, arms handling, social issues etc.

Evidence of Success- Since the start of the unit students showed a great interest in N.C.C. Therefore, all the seats of the unit got filled. Besides, N.C.C. cadets got generous praise from the guests on different occasions. The cadets successfully got trained in controlling traffic and spreading cashless and e-payment awareness etc. On 8th Jan 2017 CRPF Commander received guard of honour. Besides, a number of other achievements were credited to the unit.

Problems encountered and Resources required- The full unite of N.C.C. requires full fletched N.C.C. officers. But the institution has only a caretaker officer. Besides, most of the girls belong to rural areas. Therefore, it is very difficult for them to attend regular parades and camps.

Best Practices

Annexure- 3 (ii)

Title- Suggestion and Complaint Box

Goal-

The Context-

Like the last session this practice continued in the present session too. It was realised by the IQAC that the practice of suggestion and complaint box proved to be very useful, as it was a lot easier for students to present their problems and suggestions without hesitation.

The practice:- The complaint/suggestion box has been placed at a point that is easily reachable to students. It has been ensured that students feel comfortable in putting their problems & suggestions without any fear & hesitation. The box is opened time to time in the strict vigil of the principal and a committee specially formed for dealing with the matters of complaint/suggestion box. All the complaints are looked into by the administration & tried to be sorted out. After sorting out the problems the administration informs all the students about the proceedings through notices & announcement. All the faculty members & non teaching staff are informed about complaints/suggestions of students and instructed to cooperate in solving students' problems.

Evidence of success- The practice succeeded tremendously as more than seventy complaints/suggestions were received from the students. IQAC along with other cells and college administration ensured proper addressing of students' problems. Even students' feedback about the practice was very encouraging. Thus, the practice is as successful as it can be.

Problems encountered and resources required- Sometimes, the college administration remained extremely busy in examinations and other administrative responsibilities. Therefore, it was difficult to manage regular attention to suggestion and complaint box. Besides, sometimes students put in some irrelevant complaints and suggestions that were practically impossible to get addressed.
